Short Bio

Juan Pablo is a legal consultant specializing in international human rights law and business law. He holds a law degree from Pontificia Universidad Javeriana in Colombia and an LL.M. in U.S. Law from the University of Cincinnati. He currently serves as an International Law Fellow at the Consortium and works as an external consultant for the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights, where he assists in drafting merit reports.

Juan Pablo previously worked with the Office of Equal Access and Opportunity at the University of Cincinnati, focusing on civil rights law and regulatory compliance. He also has experience in business and commercial law, having worked with law firms in both Colombia and the United States, supporting business associations in drafting and reviewing commercial contracts, corporate governance instruments, and non-disclosure agreements.

During his academic career, Juan Pablo participated in the 2023 Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot and the 2020 Stetson International Environmental Law Moot Court Competition. He also contributed as an associate member of the Immigration and Human Rights Law Review at the University of Cincinnati and participated in strategic litigation on human rights and environmental issues with Pontificia Universidad Javeriana's Legal Clinic on Law and Territory.
